"This will be a real insurance against war, not merely trying to put out the fire by pouring kerosene on it, as most "preparedness" is. It is to make trade as free between us and Latin America as it is among the States. It will benefit both our consumers and our manufacturers. If any one is curious to know what its probable of fects would be on our trade with South and Central America, let him study the statistics of trade between the United States and the Philippines and Porto Rico since free trade became effective between those islands and the United States. The measure I propose will go farther toward the establishment of a solidarity of all America and to preserve the peace than all the fleets and armies that could be mobilized."

FREE TRADE REPUBLICANS

Republican voters seem to care less about maintaining the tariff than protectionist politicians like. In Michigan they endorsed for President Henry Ford, who is not only a pacifist, but an absolute free trader, who furthermore favors "public ownerhip of natural resources, such as CARLIN-We are authorized to an-nounce the name of James K. The land owners of Sonora will either put their land to some use or let others do so. In either case opportunities will be opened to labor and capital in a way that might be done in this country also, if we would revise our own tax systems on the lines proposed by Calles.

Though the wording of the dispatches indicate that it is Calles' intention to have a different rate of taxation for improved and unimproved land, it does not follow that this is anything more than careless reporting. At any rate, while that would be better than the American system, Let us hope the gentle reader will it would not be the best possible way.
